

The Lancaster Intelligencer.

Volume XX--No 293.

LANCASTER, PA., MONDAY, AUGUST 11, 1884.

Price Two Cents.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.

For Choice Wilton Carpets.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Fine Velvet Carpets.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Extra Quality Moquet Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Best Makes Body Brussels Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Best Tapestry Brussels Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Medium Tapestry Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Low-priced Tapestry Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Best All-wool 3-ply Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Extra Super All-wool Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For all kinds of Ingrain Carpets.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
25 East King Street.

JOHN S. GIVLER & Co.

For Damask Hall and Stair Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Low-priced Venetian Hall and Stair.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Home-made Rag Carpet.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Cocoa, Napier and Canton Mattings.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Choice Linoleum.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Best Floor Oil Cloths.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For Rugs and Mats.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
For the Genuine Aurora Carpet Sweeper.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
Take Carpet Rags in Exchange for Carpets.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
Prices Marked in Plain Figures.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
One Price and that the Lowest.

JOHN S. GIVLER & CO.,
The Best Assortment in Lancaster.

H. Z. RHOADS.

SUMMER JEWELRY.

RHINE STONE SPECIALTIES IN SILVER JEWELRY.

Lace Pins,
Hair Pins,
Collar Buttons,
Bracelets and Bangles.

H. Z. RHOADS,

No. 4, West King Street.

LANCASTER, PA.

SHIRK'S CARPET HALL.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!

SHIRK'S CARPET HALL.

Selling Off to Close Business. Everything Must Positively be Sold.

A Full Line of BODY BRUSSELS, TAPESTRY, and All Grades of INGRAIN CARPETS, RUGS, BLANKETS, COVERLETS and OIL CLOTH.

ALL AT A SACRIFICE.

Prompt attention given to the Manufacture of Rag Carpets to order.

SHIRK'S CARPET HALL,

COOR. W. KING AND WATER STS., LANCASTER, PA.

J. B. MARTIN & CO.

NOW READY FOR THE FALL TRADE!

THE LARGEST LINE OF

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Body Brussels, Tapestry

AND

INGRAIN CARPETS

EVER SHOWN IN THIS CITY.

NEW COLORINGS. - NEW PATTERNS.

ALL NEW, AND ESPECIALLY DESIGNED FOR THE FALL'S TRADE.

PRICES LOWER THAN EVER!

Rugs, Mats, Mattings, Cottoens, Linoleum and Oil Cloth,

IN ALL DESIRABLE WIDTHS AND STYLES.

STAIR RODS. STAIR PADS. CARPET LININGS.

J. B. MARTIN & CO.

Corner West King and Prince Streets, Lancaster, Pa.

TINWARE, &C.

PROVISIONS.

GRO

JOHN P. SCHAUUM'S,

No. 24 South Queen Street.

FOR THE--

CHEAPEST and BEST

REFRIGERATORS,

WATER COOLERS,

Lawn Mowers,

GARDEN HOES AND OIL CLOTH.

JOHN P. SCHAUUM,

24 South Queen Street, LANCASTER, PA.

STOCKS.

POOR, WHITE & GREENOUGH,

--BANKERS,--

45 WALL STREET, New York.

Brokers and Dealers in Railway and all other Securities.

RAILWAY INVESTMENTS

a specialty. In the selection and estimate of which their long connection with "FOON'S MANUAL OF RAILROADS" gives them special advantage. Correspondence invited and inquiries answered. Deposit accounts received and interest allowed.

TAYLOR'S FANCY FLOUR.

Given a trial and be convinced that it is as fine as any flour in the world.

Taylor's Fancy Flour

Retalls at 95 cents per 25 Pound Sack.

M. F. STEIGERWALT & SONS,

Sole Agents for Lancaster. 47-1m

LEVAN'S NEW ROLLER FLOUR.

Having fitted our mill with the latest and most improved roller machinery, we are now manufacturing a flour not surpassed by anything in the market. To be convinced try a sack of

LEVAN'S

Fancy Roller.

For Sale by Grocers generally.

LEVAN & SONS,
Merchant Millers,
JOHN H. HUSHONG, Agent for Lancaster city.

HOP PLASTER.

SHARP PAINS.

Crick, Sprains, Wrenches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Fracture Pains, Stiff in the Side, Backache, Swollen Joints, Heart Disease, Sore Muscles, Pain in the Chest, and all pains and aches of the face or its appendages are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the well-known Hop Plaster. Compound, as it is called, of the medicinal virtues of fresh hops, gums, balsams and extracts, it is intensely soothing and strengthening. For use on all parts of the body. Hop Plaster is sold by all druggists and country stores, 25 cents a box for 100. Mailed on receipt of price. Hop Plaster Co., Proprietors and Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

HOP PLASTER.

Coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach and liver disease cured by Hawley's (2) and Liver Pills 25 cts. nov28-1y4w(2)

TURKEY HAY.

AUGUST IS A DULL MONTH.

We say differently, however, as we are selling off our entire stock of

SUMMER CLOTHING

AT HALF VALUE

and less, and LOW PRICES DOES THE WORK. We will not bother you with prices on special articles, as all are being sold so low. What we have to say is of the

SPECIAL SALE

OF

Measured Clothing to Order

We are making all kinds of LIGHT AND MEDIUM-WEIGHT SUITS, PANTALOONS AND VESTINGS, at such LOW PRICES as order as will astonish you. We have GREAT QUANTITIES OF GOOD QUALITY.

Call at once, and get your choice, as they all must go.

Hirsh & Brother,

FENN HALL CLOTHING HOUSE,
Cor. of North Queen Street and Centre Square.
LANCASTER, PA.

IT IS NOT A PLEASANT THING TO BE A PROSTITUTE, but it is a pleasant, as well as a profitable, thing to have

A COAT THAT CAN BE TURNED, SUCH AS ARE NOW SELLING.

Burger & Sutton's

MERCHANT TAILORING AND CLOTHING HOUSE,
NO. 24 CENTRE SQUARE,
LANCASTER, PA.

ASK FOR THE

"TURNCOATS."

THE ONLY SORT OF "TURNCOATS" THAT ARE EVER POPULAR.

Burger & Sutton

DEALERS IN

CLOTHING

AND

Gents' Furnishing Goods,

24 CENTRE SQUARE,
LANCASTER, PA. 14-1y3

WILLIAMSON & FOSTER.

BETWEEN SEASON PRICES ON LOW-CUT SHOES AND SLIPPERS.

For Ladies' and Misses' wear. Right in the season for Low-Cut shoes and slippers. We have placed an out-of-season price, because in a few weeks their room will be far more profitable than their company. We offer them at bargain prices while the Ladies and Misses need them. They are all of the New-Style, the best quality and a complete range of sizes, and every pair is a bargain at the present reduced prices.

CLOTHING.

We have an assortment that is suitable to every change of temperature. An assortment that embraces garments suitable to the season in medium weight or very light. They are all well made, correct in style and excellent in fit. The sizes range from the little boy in short pants to a man of extra large size or short and fat. We have a large quantity of Old garments in coats and pants at prices that are very low.

FANCY HOSIERY AND SILK NECKWEAR.

Prices that have been reduced 50 per cent from regular rates.

SUMMER UNDERWEAR AND DRAWERS.

For twenty-five cents, that sold early in the season for fifty and seventy-five cents. White dress shirts from fifty to seventy-five cents, and the celebrated

EIGHMIE SHIRT

In all sizes, long or short sleeves. We sell them for $1.00 each, or 10 per cent reduction on half-dozen lots.

STRAW HATS

At almost give-away prices. Ten cents will buy a good straw hat. Twenty-five cents will buy a better one, and fifty cents will buy an excellent bright White Canton straw hat suitable for dress wear, that formerly sold for $1.00. French Palm and Manila Hats, light colored silk and soft felt Hats, all have been reduced fully 50 per cent, less than regular prices. Boys' Campaign Caps, etc., in full line of samples in Campaign Outfits at Very Low Prices.

Trunks and Valises for the traveling public at prices below the average that the same goods command elsewhere. Antler Clothing and Gum Leggings in all qualities.

WILLIAMSON & FOSTER,

32, 34, 36 and 38 East King Street,
LANCASTER, PA.

HURLBERT'S WEDDING.

NEW YORKER MARRIED IN ENGLAND.

The ex-Editor of the New York "World" and one of the High Contracting Parties in the brilliant Marriage at Yorkville.

The marriage of William Henry Hurlbert, late proprietor of the New York "World," and Miss Katharine Parker Tracey of New York, took place on Saturday in Yorkville, and was a grand affair. The youthful bridegroom left London at 4 o'clock Friday morning to join the bridal party assembled in St. Ernest, Beckenham, Kent, his lovely maiden, Kirkatall Grange, near Leeds, and he confessed to a few friends who saw him off that he did not at all feel up to the mark. He said he had been suffering for a week from a horrible cold and catarrh. He had drunk and sniffed a dozen different nostrums, all pronounced infallible, but had failed to find relief. He was full of gloomy forebodings, and in answer to the cheering words of the friends who had remained to bid him off, that it was a bad omen for an old man to start on Friday to get married. Mr. Hurlbert traveled to Yorkville almost alone, but at Kirkatall Grange, which is famous for its hospitality, he was met by a brilliant assemblage. The resident guests of Mr. Deutscher included Lord Houghton, Lord Lynton, Lord Roseberry, Lord Wemyss, the Count and Countess Giannotti, of Rome, Mr. and Mrs. William Beckett-Denison, Mrs. Lee (a sister of the late John Johnson), Mr. and Mrs. Field, Mr. and Mrs. W. Story, of Rome, Mr. Robert Browning and Mr. William Hurrell Mallock.

Among the guests who were especially invited for the occasion were Lord and Lady Beaumont, Lord and Lady Darnley, Sir Francis and Lady Sandford, Countess Feversham, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bancroft Davis and Mr. and Mrs. George Augustus Sala. The wedding service was solemnized in the little parish church of St. Chad's by Rev. Dr. Smyke. The happy pair came to the altar unattended by bridesmaids or groomsmen and the bride was given away by Mr. J. S. Morgan. She was richly and exquisitely attired in a dress of broad silk, looped with feathers at the graceful points, trimmed with point d'Alencon lace and with the corsage elaborately embroidered with seed pearls and diamonds. Her ornaments comprised a brooch, pendants and spray, in which huge pearls and diamonds were intermingled. The pictures in the little church were crowded and the choral service was beautiful. After the wedding there was a merry breakfast at the Grange, at the conclusion of which the bridal couple and Mrs. Lee started for a tour in the lake country of Cumberland. At a few weeks' end Winterburn, Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbert will go to Liverpool to see Mrs. Lee off for New York, and will then make a continental tour through Holland, the Rhine country and the Tyrolean Alps, spending the winter in Rome.

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE GETTSBURG CAMP.

Money Left in Town by the Soldier Boys.

The encampment of the national guard of the state at Gettysburg for a few weeks past has made a permanent impression on the city. Troop which went through this city on horseback went home by cars. A Press correspondent writing from Gettysburg says: "Gettysburg might well be willing to have the battlefields made a permanent campground. The national guard will leave the town better $100,000 richer than it was. The hotels have reaped a golden harvest, and an astonishing number of boarding houses have thrown open their doors to crowds of guests. Everybody has made money. One bootblack at the Eagle hotel cleared $36 in six days, and one carriage driver made $74 above all his expenses. Men came with their teams to Gettysburg from long distances, merely to drive visitors to and from the campground at a quarter price. Two men brought their carriages by rail from Williamsport. After a successful week they sold one of the carriages at a good price, and the four horses will drag the other carriage 150 miles back to Williamsport. The singular thing about all this money making is that it has been gathered without exertion. The hotels have not raised their usual prices, though they were compelled to turn people away from their doors for lack of room. Everybody has made money. The hotelkeepers have made no effort to tack extra prices on their goods. As an old resident said: "Gettysburg is getting to be a great place for tourists, and we don't want to drive them away by increasing the reputation of Niagara Falls." This absence of all attempt at extortion has probably been one great reason for the good behavior of the soldiers in town. At least 50,000 people have visited Gettysburg during the week. The general effect has been a delightful one on the camp and its results. They are unanimous in opinion that the national guard was never so well uniformed, well drilled, well disciplined and well behaved as now. They contrast the present efficiency with their own and even seven years ago and argue that that encampment will go far to increase the public esteem and respect for the guard, on which its character must largely depend.

The talk of making this a permanent encampment has also grown into a determination. The chief difficulty would be to acquire possession of the land, as the owners would suddenly discover its enormous value if positive steps were taken now. Adjutant General Guthrie, who is waiting for the rain to stop before he leaves, says that the place is admirably adapted for such a purpose and that a permanent camp would save the state much money which is now yearly spent to renew fences and otherwise prepare the ground.

Accident to a Troop Train.

Conductor Frank Small and Fireman Fuller Thompson were killed by an accident to a train on the Gettysburg & Harrisburg railroad, near Carlisle on Saturday at noon. The train consisted of an engine and seven cars, and contained the companies from the western part of the state belonging to the Tenth and Fifteenth regiments of the regular army, returning from the state encampment at Gettysburg. While the train was running slow near the Carlisle junction the rails suddenly spread, throwing the engine and tender down an embankment and causing four of the cars to leave the track. The engine jumped and lodged in a small tree, escaping with a scalded foot and slight bruises. Conductor Frank Small jumped, but fell under a moving car and was killed. Fireman Fuller Thompson remained on the engine and was buried under the wreck. None of the passengers were injured.

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, and all other eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to cure all cases of Piles, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 127 and 129 North Queen Street, Lancaster.

Let Truth Prevail.

Let the facts be known. Let us understand that a ball, or an ulcer, or a carbuncle, or any eruption or blemish of the skin, or in any part of the body, which is not cured by our medicine, is not cured. This wonderful medicine is not a cure for the disease, but it is a cure for the cause of the disease, and the reason for its use are therefore obvious. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 127 and 129 North Queen Street.

A Lawyer's Opinion of Interest to All.

J. A. Tawney, esq., a leading attorney of Winona, Minn., writes: "After using it for more than three years, I take great pleasure in stating that I regard Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, as the best remedy in the world for the cure of Croup, and has never failed to cure the most severe colds I have had, and invariably relieves the pain in the chest."

Trial bottles of this sure cure for all Throat and Lung Diseases may be had free at Cochran's drug store, Nos. 127 and 129 North Queen Street, Lancaster, Pa. Large size, $1.00, 1/2 dozen.

Its Equal Yet More From.

The movements of Mear's infant legs are very variable and uncertain, but Dr. Thomas' Pediatric Oil takes out one course--it heats and cures. Its equal for asthma, diphtheria, catarrh, cold and sore throat has never yet been sold. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 127 and 129 North Queen Street.

We Challenge the World.

When we say we believe, we have evidence to prove that Mear's Compound is the best. It is decidedly the best Lung Medicine made, in as much as it will cure a common or Chronic Cough in one-half the time and relieve Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all other ailments of the throat and lungs which all others. It will cure where they fail. It is pleasant to take, harmless to the youngest child and we guarantee what we say. Price, 10c, 50c and $1.00. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back lame, use Mear's Compound. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, nos. 127 and 129 North Queen Street. feb7-6od1

HIGH & MARTIN.

Something New!

CHINA HALL.

COMFORT AT LAST FOR OIL CONSUMERS.

LAMP BURNER

WITH

ROLLER WICK ADJUSTER

A desirable improvement over the old ratchet wheel. Try it and be convinced.

High & Martin,

15 EAST KING STREET,
LANCASTER, PA.

CLOTHING.

JOHN H. BAUSMAN.

FINE TAILOR,

No. 121 North Queen St., LANCASTER, PA.

High & Martin,

15 EAST KING STREET,
LANCASTER, PA.

CLOTHING.

JOHN H. BAUSMAN.

FINE TAILOR,

No. 121 North Queen St., LANCASTER, PA.

High & Martin,

15 EAST KING STREET,
LANCASTER, PA.

CLOTHING.

JOHN H. BAUSMAN.

FINE TAILOR,

No. 121 North Queen St., LANCASTER, PA.

High & Martin,

15 EAST KING STREET,
LANCASTER, PA.

CLOTHING.

JOHN H. BAUSMAN.

FINE TAILOR,

No. 121 North Queen St., LANCASTER, PA.

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

THE ACOTIC HEROES.

A Gula Time in Portsmouth Harbor. From "Borden's" Letter in Phila. Record.

I have just received a letter from a lady, a very clever lady, I need not say, who is spending a short time in Portsmouth, N. H. Her description of the arrival of the Greely party there is so good that I quote it, though the letter was a private one. "First came the Annapolis cadets, marching splendidly and making my heart beat as I thought of the fifteen or twenty fine heroes, sure to be among them. If we only knew whether they were destined to save us from the consequences of Blaine or of Cleveland! But, truly, as I watched the long lines of officers and marines and sailors, I dared to believe that any of those to whom the lot had fallen would have been brave and faithful too. Were it not, indeed, for Benedict Arnold, I am sure we could raise a flag, not to his duty, but to every American has always done his duty." As soon as the procession passed we here we hurried to the office to see it again, passing the grand stand, dressed completely in white flannel, looking splendidly. He is much finer looking than his pictures. He has a serious, thoughtful expression, and all looked finely, though the surgeons say that the flesh they have gained is unnatural and not to be trusted. Soon came the cadets again, never turning their soldierly heads the eighth of an inch, though I do hope they gave them a chance somewhere to see how a hero looks. But when the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert came swinging along with their sailor gait, how the ladies rose to their feet and waved their handkerchiefs, and how the cheers rang out as Greely himself arose and shouted and turned their heads to look, you may be sure! If anybody were happier than those who were saved it was those who saved them. It was all so splendid that I am dying to write a poem in itself that it is a shame to touch upon it. It was, of course, only a matter of chance but it is a fact that when some one asked: "Which are the survivors?" some one replied: "Why, you can tell them because they are the only ones who are fanning themselves."

CARRIAGES, &C.

THE STANDARD

Carriage Work

OF LANCASTER COUNTY.

EDGERLY & CO.,

Fine Carriage Builders,

MARKET STREET,
IN REAR OF CENTRAL MARKET HOUSES
LANCASTER, PA.

We make every style Buggy and Carriage desired. All work finished in the most comfortable and elegant style. We use only the best selected material, and employ only the best mechanics. For quality of work our prices are the cheapest in the state. We buy for cash and sell on the most reasonable terms. Give us a call. All work warranted. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. One set of workmen especially employed for that purpose. nov28-1y4w

Norbeck & Miley's

THIRD GRAND

PUBLIC SALE

OF FIRST-CLASS

CARRIAGE WORK,

AT THEIR FACTORY,
Cor. Duke and Vine Sts.,
LANCASTER, PA., ON

MONDAY, Aug. 18, 1884.

SALE COMMENCING AT TEN O'CLOCK, A. M.

On this day we will dispose of from 50 to 75 Vehicles of

Our Own Manufacture,

Consisting of Buggies, Phaetons, Carriages, &c., and every job will be guaranteed. Every job must be sold in order to make room for other stock. No goods offered will be withdrawn, except when below cost of manufacture. We mean to sell if the public thinks it to their advantage to purchase. No class article in want as they are finished in every respect as those you pay double the amount for. It will be well to attend, as this will be no limitation sale, as we mean to sell every job in stock, if possible. Don't forget the date, MONDAY, AUGUST 18, 1884, commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m. Bring competent judges to examine stock before day of sale. Every job will be guaranteed.

We will also dispose of a large stock of SECOND-HAND WORK.

Attention will be given and terms made known by

NORBECK & MILEY,
R. F. ROWE, Auctioneer. 14-1y3

H. L. STEHMAN & CO.

PIPES!

Meerschbaum,
Composition,
Briar Wood,
Vienna Bread,
Virginia Clay,
Corn Cob, etc.

SMOKERS, WHO SOLACE THEMSELVES WITH PIPES, AND SEE OUR DISPLAY.

Largest Assortment

Ever shown in this city.

Pipes to Suit Everybody!

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

H. L. STEHMAN & Co.,

NO. 116 NORTH QUEEN ST.
LANCASTER, PA.

H. L. STEHMAN & CO.